

Child Welfare Board proposed member

Jennifer McCoy

Jennifer McCoy is from Bangs, Texas and went to Tarleton State University. She graduated in 2010 with a Bachelor's of Science in Psychology and in 2012 with a Master's of Education in Counseling. Jennifer has worked as the director of Adult Case Management for the last 6 years at Center for Life Resources, and recently took on the role of Chief over Community Connections of Central Texas (formerly Family Services Center).

In the past, she has volunteered with CASA in Erath County and has coached various youth sports teams. Jennifer is passionate about God, her family, and our community. She is most passionate about her five wonderful children: Addisen (6), Barrett (6), T.J. (3), Tenley (2), and Reed (1), three of which she was able to adopt last year through the foster system.

Jennifer grew up being involved with foster care; as her parents Jimmy and Terri Valdez have been foster parents with A World for Children for over 20 years. She has been blessed with 9 siblings through that process. Jennifer is excited about being able to provide assistance and give back to her community by joining the Child Welfare Board of Brown County.
