We have an issue that may only be truly resolved by the intervention of the Commissioners Court.

We own lake lots 1047, 1048 and 1049 which adjoin a cul-de-sac at 7086 Killarney Drive, Shamrock Shores area, Brownwood. Cars and trailers are frequently parked in the cul-de-sac which prevents or hinders us accessing the gates leading into our property. There are no signs telling anyone not to park there. We have had to call the sheriff when the owner or renters are not home, and sometimes when they are, in order to get vehicles moved so that we can get to our property.

What actions can the county take to make it illegal to block the entrance to a person's property? Does the Commissioners Court agree that one should have unhindered access to one's property? We look to the Commissioners Court for a solution.
